BRIEF COMPENDIUM

on technical assistance available to the developing countries from the United Nations and other organizations in the field of leather and allied industries

Introduction

The Leather and Leather Products Industry Panel at its first meeting in Vienna from 5-7 June 1978 requested UNIDO to review existing data on technical assistance available to the developing countries from the United Nations and other organizations in the field of leather and allied industries, and to prepare a brief compendium listing these organizations.

This brief compendium is not to replace the UNIDO publication UNIDO/LIB/SER.D/3, entitled: Information Sources on the Leather and Leather Goods Industry, neither to be a substitute to several national and international directories existing throughout the world.

The main purpose is to give a brief survey of various existing organizations, institutions and institutes active in this field, and existing training possibilities.

Associations and companies established on a profit basis have not been listed. Their names and locations can easily be found in the various existing directories. Managerial training institutes can be found in the 79 Guide to Training Opportunities for Industrial Development (PI/63, 1 November 1978).

This compendium should be considered only the beginning of a permanent information task concerning the entire leather sector and should be further completed and up-dated as required. Suggestions for improvements, amendments and additions to the list would be highly appreciated.

The compendium is divided into four parts:

1. Organizations
2. Training Centres
3. Foundations and institutes involved in overseas studies
4. Development and Investment Banks.
