The 2009 edition of the International Yearbook of Industrial Statistics was prepared by a team of statistical staff under the supervision of Shyam Upadhyaya, Chief Statistician of UNIDO. Overall IT support was provided by Valentin Todorov, who managed the integrated statistical databases and produced the final PDF/digital manuscript. Ömer Aksoycan, Brigitte Leutner, Rita Liang, Regina McFerren-Zenz and Véronique Pecenka were responsible for the collection of data and the compilation of the regional and country tables. Administrative support was provided to the team by Liliya Kirchberger. Anja Sedic joined the team at a later stage and contributed to the final verification of the tables in Part I.

Important contributions to the publication were made by a number of short-term staff and consultants. Nicolai Christov and Bernhard Karner assisted in the development and maintenance of the software infrastructure. Markus Fröhlich updated the GDP and manufacturing value added (MVA) database and produced recent year estimates, while Svetlin Tzolov collected the required data from different international sources. Kris Boudt provided methodological advice for improving nowcasting models and related statistical software applications.

The team members wish to express their sincere thanks to Ludovico Alcorta, Director of the Research and Statistics Branch of UNIDO, for his support during all stages of the preparation of this publication.

The co-operation of national statistical offices, the United Nations Statistics Division (UNSD), the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), the World Bank and other international and regional agencies in providing the information that has served as the basis of the current publication is gratefully acknowledged.

Explanatory notes

Unless otherwise indicated, "manufacturing" includes the industry groups listed under major division D of the International Standard Industrial Classification of All Economic Activities [Statistical Papers, Series M, No.4/Rev.3 (United Nations publication, Sales No. E.90.XVII.11)]. It should be noted, however, that several countries have not made a switchover from their national industrial classification schemes that are based on, or related to, Revision 2 of the International Standard Industrial Classification of All Economic Activities (ISIC) [Statistical Papers, Series M, No.4/Rev.2 (United Nations publication, Sales No. E.68.XVII.8)] to those based on, or related to, Revision 3 of ISIC. In these instances, "manufacturing" refers to table category 3 in that classification.

ISIC code numbers are accompanied by a descriptive title (for example in the case of Revision 3 of ISIC, ISIC 2813: "Manufacture of steam generators, except central heating hot water boilers"). For considerations of space, however, the description is sometimes shortened (that is, ISIC 2813 may be described simply as "Steam generators"). For both Revisions 2 and 3 of ISIC, all 2-, 3- and 4-digit codes and their corresponding descriptive titles are listed in appendix II to the introduction.

In the presentation of several tables individual countries and areas are listed alphabetically, whenever appropriate, within two successive categories: industrialized countries and developing countries. Data relating to selected groups of countries are presented in part I. In addition to regional groupings, developing countries have been further classified into three income categories: developing countries with low income (less than $1,000 per capita gross domestic product in 2005 at current prices), those with middle income ($1,000 – $5,000) and those with high income (more than $5,000). This group has also been arranged in three development categories: newly industrialized countries (NICs), least developed countries and other developing countries. NICs category in this publication combines previous groupings of NICs and second generation NICs and few more countries selected on the basis of four variables: share in world MVA, MVA per capita, MVA share in GDP and the share of manufactured exports in total.

Hong Kong became the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (SAR) of China on 1 July 1997. Macao became the Macao Special Administrative Region (SAR) of China on 20 December 1999. In the present publication, unless otherwise stated, data for China do not include data for Hong Kong SAR, for Macao SAR or for Taiwan Province of China, which are presented separately under China (Hong Kong SAR), China (Macao SAR) and China (Taiwan Province).

Countries and areas included in the groups are listed in appendix I to the introduction. Because of a lack of data, some countries could not be included in their respective groups in some tables.

Regardless of the year/period referred to, the country group European Union (EU) is related to the group consisting of the 27 countries shown under that country group in appendix I to the introduction. The abbreviation 'EU-15' refers to the European Union of 15 member countries before its enlargement in May 2004 (Austria, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, United Kingdom). The abbreviation 'EU-12' refers to the 12 new member countries that acceded to the European Union after May 2004 (Bulgaria, the Czech Republic, Cyprus, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Malta, Poland, Romania, Slovakia and Slovenia).

In part I, references to dollars ($) are to United States dollars. National currencies have been converted to dollar equivalents by using period average exchange rates as published in International Financial Statistics (International Monetary Fund publication) and other sources.

Data converted to dollars by using current exchange rates are liable to be strongly influenced by fluctuations in exchange rates. Annual variations of data converted in that manner may not reflect movements in the national data.

In part II, for all member countries of the European Monetary Union (EMU), national data are expressed in Euros.

Unless otherwise noted, average annual growth rates are calculated from the data available for each year of a given period (for example, 2000-2005), using a semi-log regression over time. Growth rates are expressed in percentages.

Periods set off by a hyphen (for instance, 2000-2005) include the beginning and end years.

Apparent arithmetical discrepancies, such as percentages that do not add up to precise totals, result from the rounding of basic data or figures known to different degrees of precision.

Three dots (...) indicate that data are not available or are not separately reported.

A dash (-) indicates that an amount is nil or negligible.

The letter "x" designates the item applicable to a country when several options exist.

To avoid ambiguity, the letters "l", "o" and "O" are not used to designate footnotes.

DATA AVAILABLE ON CD-ROM

UNIDO maintains several databases on industrial statistics, of which new sales versions are made available annually.

UNIDO INDSTAT4
Industrial Statistics
Database at the 4-digit
level of ISIC (Revision 2 and 3)

- INDSTAT4-Rev.3 contains time series data on seven selected data items (number of establishments, total employment, female employment, wages and salaries paid to employees, output, value added and gross fixed capital formation) starting 1990 onwards. The data are arranged at the 3- and 4-digit level of ISIC (Revision 3) pertaining to the manufacturing sector, which comprises 151 manufacturing categories.

- INDSTAT4-Rev.2 is available to the user to supplement INDSTAT4-Rev.3. The data refer to the seven variables and period 1981 onwards and are arranged according to ISIC (Revision 2) at the 4-digit level, which comprises 81 manufacturing industries.

- All value data are originally stored in national currency values at current prices. The system allows for data conversion from national currency into current U.S. dollars.

UNIDO IDSB
Industrial Demand-Supply
Balance Database at the 4-digit

INTRODUCTION

This is the fifteenth issue of UNIDO's annual publication, the International Yearbook of Industrial Statistics. The Yearbook succeeded the Handbook of Industrial Statistics which was published biennially by UNIDO up to 1992. At the same time, it replaced the United Nations' Industrial Statistics Yearbook, volume I (General Industrial Statistics), which was discontinued after its 1991 edition published in 1993. These changes were in accordance with the recommendations of the United Nations Statistical Commission at its twenty-seventh session, namely that UNIDO, in collaboration with the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), assumes responsibility for the collection and dissemination of world-wide general industrial statistics, effective 1994. The present Yearbook pertains to the manufacturing sector only.

The main purpose of the Yearbook is to provide statistical indicators to facilitate international comparisons relating to the manufacturing sector. The data presented were compiled bearing in mind the requirements of international comparability and the standards for this work promulgated by the United Nations. Concepts and definitions are drawn from the International Recommendations for Industrial Statistics [Statistical Papers, Series M, No.48/Rev.1 (United Nations publication, Sales No.E.83.XVII.8)] and the classification by industry follows Revision 2 or Revision 3 of ISIC.

The present Yearbook consists of two parts. Part I deals with the manufacturing sector as a whole (section 1.1) and with its divisions/branches (section 1.2). Statistical indicators are presented in terms of percentage distributions, cross-country averages, ratios and real growth rates that facilitate international comparison among selected country groups and/or countries. In the present publication data for manufacturing divisions/branches are arranged according to Revision 3 of ISIC at the two- or three-digit level. Part II consists of a series of country/area-specific tables showing detailed data on selected basic statistics that were reported by national statistical offices. Most countries have made a switchover from their national industrial classifications compatible with Revision 2 to those compatible with Revision 3 of ISIC. Consequently, data for those countries are presented in accordance with Revision 3 of ISIC. However, for some countries, data are still presented in accordance with Revision 2 of ISIC.

For the first time, part I of the Yearbook includes some graphical presentations followed by a brief description of the overall trend of world industrial growth.

Sources and methods

In section 1.1 of part I, manufacturing value added (MVA) was estimated in accordance with the national accounting concept, which represents the net contribution of the manufacturing sector to gross domestic product (GDP). The data on MVA and GDP were obtained from various national and international sources including the World Bank, OECD, the United Nations Statistics Division (UNSD), the International Monetary Fund and regional development banks. These sources were supplemented with estimates generated by UNIDO.

GDP and MVA data at constant prices refer to the year 2000, which was rebased from 1995 prior to the publication of the 2008 edition of the Yearbook. Due to the change in base year for constant prices there might be differences between the data shown in the present edition of the Yearbook and those shown in earlier editions. Figures with respect to population emanate from the 2006 revision of data compiled by the Population Division of the United Nations Secretariat.

The information in section 1.2 is drawn from the UNIDO Industrial Statistics Database, as well as data communicated to the United Nations by official national sources. With regard to the member countries of OECD, data were compiled by that organization. Information is solicited through a questionnaire issued jointly by the two organizations.

To facilitate the comparability of the data over time and across countries, UNIDO has supplemented originally reported data with information obtained from various other sources. The latter include: industrial censuses, statistics supplied by national and international organizations, unpublished data collected in the field by UNIDO as well as estimates made by the UNIDO secretariat.[1].

[1] UNIDO's procedures for estimation are described in "UNIDO Industrial Statistics Database — Methodological Notes" (IRD/R.11).

The indicators presented in tables 1.5 to 1.9 of section 1.2 were derived from estimates of value added at constant 2000 prices. For each country and industrial division, these value-added estimates were generated by applying production indexes to the 2000 value-added base weights, which in turn were generated by UNIDO from various national and international sources.

Except for index numbers of industrial production, the information for the countries and areas other than the OECD member countries, presented in part II, were compiled from (i) the 2006 edition of the UNIDO General Industrial Statistics Questionnaires completed by national statistical offices and (ii) relevant publications issued by national statistical offices. Information referring to OECD member countries is based on data compiled by OECD via questionnaires and incorporated in OECD's Information System on Industrial Statistics as well as in the UNIDO database. With respect to production indexes, data were supplied by UNSD that compiles these data regularly from national sources through the quarterly United Nations Index of Industrial Production Questionnaires.

In section 1.2 of part I and in part II, the measures generally used are census output and census value added. Thus, the costs of non-industrial services are included in value added, whereas the receipts for these services are excluded from output. For a quick reference, appendix III to this introduction provides notes on certain aspects of the data used, and it is recommended that the reader consult them when using the Yearbook. A detailed version appears in the individual country notes in part II, which also covers deviations from the standards applied. In general, these notes are also applicable to the estimates that supplement the officially reported data.

PART I. SUMMARY TABLES

Section 1.1: The manufacturing sector

Section 1.1 comprises tables 1.1 to 1.4. Table 1.1 shows the distribution of world MVA for various regions and groups of countries at constant 2000 prices as well as at current prices.

The reader should be aware that due to variation in official exchange rates the world distribution may change considerably, depending on the choice of the base year.

To maintain comparability over time, composition of each group of countries was kept the same throughout the period. In this connection, EU refers to the 27 countries that are listed in appendix I to this introduction. However, due to data limitations, several developing countries listed in appendix I are not included.

In tables 1.2 to 1.4, taking into account the large size of its economy, China is not included in the group classified according to income level or the group classified according to development level.

Table 1.2 shows the shares of selected groups of developing countries in MVA and in population of all developing countries. For the definitions of the income categories, see "Explanatory notes".

Table 1.3 shows real growth rates and index numbers (2000=100) of total and per-capita MVA as well as values of per-capita MVA for the latest year 2007 for individual countries and areas and for selected country groups. Data referring to country groups were based on cross-country aggregates of MVA in constant 2000 US dollars.

Table 1.4 shows the percentage shares of MVA in GDP estimated at both constant 2000 prices and current prices. The data are presented by individual countries and areas as well as by selected country groups. With respect to the selected country groups, common country samples were taken for both indicators and for all reference years.

Section 1.2: The manufacturing divisions/ branches

Section 1.2 comprises tables 1.5 to 1.11. It focuses on the divisions/branches of the manufacturing sector. The ISIC (Revision 3) definition of manufacturing consists of 23 divisions reported in accordance with a two-digit code and 61 branches reported in accordance with a three-digit code.

In tables 1.5 to 1.9, Recycling (ISIC 37) had to be excluded from the presentation due to data limitations. Data for China and China (Taiwan Province) are UNIDO estimates. Furthermore, a number of estimates at the country level, especially for many developing countries, were also generated to enable regional aggregation or to derive world totals for the latest years.

Table 1.5 shows the world distribution of the respective value added of selected divisions among selected country groups.

Table 1.6 shows the shares of developing regions and the least developed countries in the value added of all developing countries in selected divisions.

Table 1.7 shows the world's leading producers in various industrial divisions as well as the leading developing countries and areas in terms of value added.

Table 1.8 shows the shares of individual divisions in total MVA by country grouping.

Table 1.9 shows real growth rates of value added of individual divisions, calculated for selected country groups. The reference periods are 2000-2005 and 2005-2007.

Table 1.10 presents the share of female employees in total employment in individual divisions. For some countries, employment refers to number of persons engaged instead of number of employees (see appendix III of the present introduction). Only a limited number of countries and areas have reported data on female employment at the division level.

Table 1.11 shows, for individual countries and areas, basic indicators that are characteristic of the manufacturing branches. Costs of input materials and utilities are calculated as output minus value added. Costs of labour refer to wages and salaries of employees only. Operating surplus is calculated as value added minus wages and salaries paid to employees.

Information concerning the following branches is excluded from table 1.11: Dressing & dyeing of fur; processing of fur (ISIC 1820); Reproduction of recorded media (ISIC 2230); Coke oven products (ISIC 2310); Refined petroleum products (ISIC 2320); Processing of nuclear fuel (ISIC 2330); Man-made fibres (ISIC 2430); Watches and clocks (ISIC 3330); Railway/tramway locomotives & rolling stock (ISIC 3520); Aircraft and spacecraft (ISIC 3530); Transport equipment n.e.c. (ISIC 359); Recycling of metal waste and scrap (ISIC 3710); Recycling of non-metal waste and scrap (ISIC 3720).

PART II. COUNTRY TABLES

Part II comprises country/area-specific tables presenting the following selected industrial statistics: number of establishments, number of employees (or, if not reported, number of persons engaged), wages and salaries paid to employees, output, value added, gross fixed capital formation and index numbers of industrial production. All value data are presented in current national currencies. The data on these items (except gross fixed capital formation and index numbers of industrial production) relate to the last four years for which data were reported. Gross fixed capital formation refers to the last two years for which data were reported. Index numbers of industrial production refer to the period 1995-2006.

Coverage of countries/areas

The countries/areas that are presented in part II are those which reported data during the current round of the UNIDO annual compilation programme of global industrial statistics. Those countries/areas, which reported data only in previous rounds of the UNIDO compilation programme, are not included in the present Yearbook, but were included in previous editions. At the beginning of part II, those countries/areas are listed together with a reference to the respective editions of the Yearbook in which their latest data were presented.

Industrial classification

The classification of industrial activity, set out in the tables, follows either Revision 2 or Revision 3 of ISIC, at the two-, three- and four-digit levels of ISIC depending on the individual country's data reporting scheme. Where information was not provided in this form, the estimates are shown in the most applicable ISIC category. Aggregates for total manufacturing are included. With regard to production indexes, data are arranged in accordance with the 2-digit level of Revision 3 of ISIC.

It should be noted that in several cases a figure presented for a 3-digit group does not agree with the sum of data given for the corresponding 4-digit categories. As far as possible, UNIDO resolved these discrepancies with the help of available supplementary information.

Reference unit

For most countries and areas represented, the data shown relate to the activity of "establishments" in the specified industries rather than any other type of industrial unit. In a few cases, however, the concepts of "kind-of-activity unit", "local unit" or "enterprise" are found. An "establishment" is ideally a unit that engages, under a single ownership or control, in one, or predominantly one, kind of activity at a single location; for example, workshop or factory. A "kind-of-activity unit" differs from the establishment in that there is no restriction with respect to the geographical area in which a given kind of activity is carried out by a single legal entity. A "local unit", on the other hand, comprises all activities carried out under a single ownership or control at a single location and differs from the establishment-type of unit in that there is no restriction on the range of these activities. An "enterprise" is a legal entity possessing the right to conduct business in its own name; for example, to enter into contracts, own property, incur liability for debts, and establish bank accounts. Specific information on the character of the units covered in the tables for each country is set out in the corresponding country note.

Reference period
The statistics in the tables relate, in general, to the calendar year. It should be noted, however, that in many cases where the basic reference period of the industrial inquiry is the calendar year, returns covering proximate fiscal years may be accepted for reporting purposes and the data for these years, incorporated in the calendar-year, aggregate without adjustment. In a few countries, fiscal years normally used for public accounting purposes have been adopted as the basic reference periods. In the case of fiscal-year coverage, the year indicated in the tables refers to the calendar year in which the major part of the fiscal year falls. In the case of fiscal years from 1 July to 30 June, the year referred to is normally the one in which the fiscal year ends.

Concepts and definitions of the items
The United Nations standards that have been applied in preparing the tables are set out below. All values are in national currency units and are at current prices unless otherwise indicated. For countries other than the OECD member countries, deviations from these concepts and definitions are described in the respective country notes. The country notes referring to OECD member countries are based on information presented in OECD's annual publication "Structural and Demographic Business Statistics 1996-2003".

(1) Number of persons engaged and number of employees
The number of persons engaged is defined as the total number of persons who worked in or for the establishment during the reference year. However, home workers are excluded. The concept covers working proprietors, active business partners and unpaid family workers as well as employees. The figures reported refer normally to the average number of persons engaged during the reference year, obtained as the sum of the "average number of employees" during the year and the total number of other persons engaged measured for a single period of the year. The category "employees" is intended to include all persons engaged other than working proprietors, active business partners and unpaid family workers. In this publication, preference has been given, whenever possible, to employees over persons engaged.

(2) Wages and salaries
Estimates of wages and salaries include all payments in cash or in kind made to "employees" during the reference year in relation to work done for the establishment. Payments include: (a) direct wages and salaries; (b) remuneration for time not worked; (c) bonuses and gratuities; (d) housing allowances and family allowances paid directly by the employer; and (e) payments in kind.

Compensation of employees is equivalent to wages and salaries plus employers' contributions on behalf of their employees paid to social security, pension and insurance schemes, as well as the benefits received by employees under these schemes and severance and termination pay.

(3) Output
The measure of output normally used in the tables is the census concept that covers only activities of an industrial nature. The value of census output in the case of estimates compiled on a production basis comprises: (a) the value of all products of the establishment; (b) the net change between the beginning and the end of the reference period in the value of work in progress and stocks of goods to be shipped in the same condition as received; (c) the value of industrial work done or industrial services rendered to others; (d) the value of goods shipped in the same condition as received less the amount paid for these goods; and (e) the value of fixed assets produced during the period by the unit for its own use. In the case of estimates compiled on a shipment basis, the net change in the value of stocks of finished goods between the beginning and the end of the reference period is also included.

Gross output is equivalent to census output plus the revenue from activities of a non-industrial nature. Valuation methods differ from country to country. An increasing number of countries are reporting at basic prices, which excludes taxes on commodity and includes commodity related subsidies. Other methods of reporting valuation are: (a) at factor costs, which excludes all indirect taxes falling on production and includes all current subsidies received in support of production activities; and (b) in producers' prices, which includes all indirect taxes except VAT, or any other deductible taxes and excludes all subsidies.

(4) Value added
The measure of value added normally used in the tables is the census concept, which is defined as the value of census output less the value of census input. Items covered in the latter include: (a) value of materials and supplies for production (including cost of all fuel and purchased electricity); and (b) cost of industrial services received (mainly payments for contract and commission work and repair and maintenance work). If input estimates are compiled on a "received" rather than on a "consumed" basis, the result is adjusted for the net change between the beginning and the end of the period in the value of stocks of materials, fuel and other supplies.

Total value added is the national accounting concept. It is ideally represented by the contribution of the establishments in each branch of activity to the gross domestic product. For the measure of total value added, the cost of non-industrial services is deducted and the receipts for non-industrial services are added to census value added. The estimates, whether in terms of census value added or total value added, are gross of depreciation and other provisions for capital consumption, unless otherwise stated. The valuation may be at factor costs, at basic prices or in producers' prices, depending on the treatment of indirect taxes and subsidies as described above.

(5) Gross fixed capital formation

Estimates refer to the value of purchases and own-account construction of fixed assets during the reference year less the value of corresponding sales. The fixed assets covered are those (whether new or used) with a productive life of one year or more. These assets, which are intended for the use of the establishment, include fixed assets made by the establishment's own labour force for its own use. Major additions, alterations and improvements to existing assets that extend their normal economic life or raise their productivity are also included. New fixed assets include all those that have not been previously used in the country. Thus, newly imported fixed assets are considered new whether or not used before they were imported. Used fixed assets include all those that have been previously used within the country.

Transactions in fixed assets include: (a) cost of land purchased and land improvement; (b) buildings and structures; and (c) machinery and equipment. Countries that have started implementation of recent recommendations for industrial statistics might have extended the coverage of fixed assets to products of research and development, computer software and database and other intellectual property products.

Assets acquired from others are valued at purchasers' prices, which cover all costs directly connected with the acquisition and installation of the items for use. In principle, assets produced on own account are also valued in this manner. However, it may frequently be necessary to value such own-account production at explicit cost, including any imputations that may be required in respect of the employed own-account labour.

Assets produced by one establishment of a multi-establishment enterprise, for the use of another establishment of the same enterprise, should be valued by the receiving establishment as though purchased from outside the enterprise. Sales of assets should be valued at the actual amounts realized rather than at book values.

(6) Index numbers of industrial production

The indexes in the tables are compiled from national indexes that are calculated by use of the Laspeyres formula. The comparison base year is 2000. However, if different base years are used in any countries, the national indexes are converted to the comparison base year.

SUMMARY TABLES

Section 1.1

THE MANUFACTURING SECTOR

Major trends of growth and distribution of manufacturing in the world

Industrialized countries play the dominant role in the manufacturing industry, with a nearly three-quarters share in total world MVA. However, the share of developing countries is rising. According to recent estimates for 2008, developing countries now produce almost 30 per cent of world MVA, compared to 16 per cent in 1990. The increasing share of developing world vis-à-vis industrialized countries is also explained by the shift of location of manufacturing, especially assembling of final products, from industrialized countries to developing countries.

The increasing role of developing countries in world industry has been achieved thanks to their relatively higher growth in recent years. The phenomenon has been impressive, as well, in relation to the size of developing countries' population. MVA per capita in developing countries doubled in 2006, compared to 1990, while the industrialized world achieved merely 30 per cent increase. According to recent UNIDO estimates, MVA per capita in LDCs rose by 60 per cent in 2008, compared to that for 1990.

Japan remains the world's most industrialized country in terms of MVA per capita. Although in most of the industrialized countries, the share of manufacturing is decreasing, due to the increasing role of service sectors and outsourcing of production activities abroad mainly to developing countries, manufacturing still accounts for more than 20 per cent of GDP of Japan, compared to the 17 per cent average for all industrialized countries (see Table 1.4). The figure reveals some remarkable changes among other industrialized countries in the last ten years. Thanks to the greater role of production of ICT goods in manufacturing, countries with relatively smaller economies such as Singapore, Ireland, and Finland have achieved significant increases in MVA per capita. As a result, they have outperformed relatively larger economies such as the United States, Germany, Canada and France. MVA per capita has remained almost stagnant in other major industrialized countries such as the United Kingdom and Italy.

For developing countries, manufacturing has been the major source of overall economic growth. Industrial production grew faster than all other sectors, which resulted in a higher growth rate of MVA than GDP in all years since 1990. According to recent UNIDO estimates, developing countries' MVA nearly tripled in 2007 from 1990. The figure indicates the increasing growth trend of manufacturing compared to the economy as a whole. The contribution of the manufacturing sector to GDP of developing countries has exceeded that of industrialized countries (see Table 1.4).

Among developing countries, those in Asia account for nearly three-fourths of total MVA, of which China alone produces 42 per cent of MVA of all developing countries. Due to the increasing share of Asian countries, the contribution of Latin America to the total MVA of the developing world declined to 21 per cent in 2008, compared to 40 in 1990. The share of Africa slightly decreased, remaining less than five per cent during all these years. Other developing countries, which are mostly comprised of those in South-East Europe, account for less than five per cent of the developing world's MVA.

Malaysia is the most industrialized country in the developing world (excluding predominantly oil-producing countries), based on MVA per capita. The majority of other developing countries with higher MVA per capita are in Latin America. Argentina has nearly same MVA per capita as Malaysia, however, industrialization of Malaysia has been much faster. In the last ten years, its MVA per capita has increased by more than 35 per cent, compared to 1.6 per cent in Argentina. In relation to population size, Costa Rica produced more than Mexico and Chile, while Brazil did not gain much during this period. Among other Asian countries, Thailand and China significantly increased their MVA per capita in the last ten years. China's MVA per capita increased by 2.5 times but was still only 63 per cent of the level achieved by Thailand in 2007. Africa is represented by the relatively small economies of Mauritius and Tunisia. Large developing economies such as Indonesia and India were not among the top 20 countries, but they are represented in the chart for reference purposes.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of enterprises refers to the smallest legal unit which may consist of one or more establishments. The definitions correspond to those referred to by the EU-Council regulation on statistical units.
Number of employees refers to persons employed on 31 December.
Wages and salaries includes employers' contributions to social security schemes and pension funds.
Output is gross output valued in producers' prices, including all indirect taxes except value added tax and all subsidies.
Value added is based on the national accounts concept. Input estimates are on a consumed basis.
Gross fixed capital formation is investment expenditure defined as the value of purchases of fixed assets, including own-account construction of assets. The value of sales of fixed assets is not deducted. "Fixed assets" are those with a productive life of at least one year, including assets made by a unit's labour force; additions, alterations, and repairs to existing assets; new assets, whether yet in use or not; and used assets. The valuation is at full cost including delivered price, cost of installation, fees and taxes (except value added tax).

Denmark

Supplier of information:
Danmarks Statistik, Copenhagen.
Industrial statistics for the OECD countries are compiled by the OECD secretariat, which supplies them to UNIDO.

Basic source of data:
Surveys based partly on the establishment as a local unit (employment, wages and salaries, gross fixed capital formation) and partly on kind-of-activity units (output, value added).

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
The data presented in ISIC (Revision 3) were originally classified according to NACE (Revision 1).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
The figures for number of establishments, employment and wages and salaries were derived from the register-based statistics of establishments and employment. All establishments with any number of employees in manufacturing are covered.

Method of data collection:
Not reported.

Type of enumeration:
Not reported.

Adjusted for non-response:
Not reported

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees refers to all full-time and part-time employees and all self-employed at end November.
Wages and salaries includes all outlays which were reported to the tax authorities by establishments operating during the year. This means that outlays of even those establishments, which were not active at the end of November, are included in the figures.

Related national publications:
None reported.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
Data have been converted from NACE (Revision 1) to ISIC (Revision 3).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
All enterprises.

Method of data collection:
Mail questionnaires.

Type of enumeration:
All enterprises with 20 or more employees are surveyed; administrative financial data is used for all other enterprises. The Business Register provides information on the principal activity and employment in enterprises not surveyed.

Adjusted for non-response:
Yes.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees is based on the average number of employees throughout the year. Data are not converted to full-time equivalent.
Wages and salaries includes social insurance contributions payable by employees and deducted by employers.
Output is gross output. It excludes income from sales of capital assets produced on own accounts.
Gross fixed capital formation is expenditure on the purchase of fixed assets plus own-account construction of assets. Fixed assets include investments in equipment goods, buildings, other construction and other fixed assets. They are investments with a productive life of at least one year, and include assets made by a unit's labour force for its own use; additions, alterations, improvements and repairs to existing assets; new assets (whether or not in use) and used assets.

Supplier of information:
Institut National de la Statistique et des Études Économiques, Paris.
Industrial statistics for the OECD countries are compiled by the OECD secretariat, which supplies them to UNIDO.

Basic source of data:
Annual survey.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
Data were originally classified according to NAF-93 (Nomenclature d'Activités Française), which is fully compatible with NACE (Revision 1) and with ISIC (Revision 3).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
All enterprises.

Method of data collection:
Mail questionnaires.

Type of enumeration:
The surveys are exhaustive for enterprises with 20 or more persons engaged; sample surveys are used for smaller enterprises.

Adjusted for non-response:
Yes.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees refers to all persons receiving compensation from the enterprise, regardless of their status. It is the annual average over the twelve months of the year. Part-time employees are counted in proportion to the time they work.
Wages and salaries corresponds to the remuneration paid by the employers during the year to compensate for the work of the employees (excluding interim employed persons and workers on hire).
Output corresponds to the total value of goods and services sold, stocked or immobilized, that have been produced during the year. It excludes resale of goods. Immobilized production corresponds to the costs of work done by the enterprise on its own account. Stock production and immobilized production are estimated at production cost, excluding deductible VAT and subsidies.
Value added is defined as gross value added.
Gross fixed capital formation is the sum of the value of acquisitions (either new or used) and production of fixed capital. It includes fixed assets in progress but excludes intangible and financial assets and equipment financed by leasing. Its valuation is at acquisition costs.

Supplier of information:
Irish Central Statistics Office, Dublin.
Industrial statistics for the OECD countries are compiled by the OECD secretariat, which supplies them to UNIDO.

Basic source of data:
Annual census.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
All data have been converted from NACE (Revision 1) to ISIC (Revision 3).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
Enterprises with three or more persons engaged.

Method of data collection:
Not reported.

Type of enumeration:
Sample survey.

Adjusted for non-response:
Not reported.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees refers to the number of persons who are paid a fixed wage or salary. Persons at work or temporarily absent because of illness, holidays, strikes, etc., are included, as are part-time workers. The numbers given for each year refer to a week in September.
Wages and salaries represents the gross amount paid to employees before deduction of income tax, employees' contributions to social security, etc.
Output represents the net selling value of all goods manufactured during the year, whether sold or not, and the value of work done. In general, for enterprises working on commission on materials supplied to them by other firms, only the payments received by them for the work done are included. Operating subsidies related to the production or sales of the output are included in the value of output; excise duty and VAT are excluded.
Valuation of value added is exclusive of deductible VAT.
Gross fixed capital formation is the difference between acquisitions and sales of capital assets. Capital assets (land, buildings, plant and equipment) are defined as goods with an expected useful life of more than one year intended for use by the enterprise itself. Acquisitions include purchases from other enterprises and production by the enterprise itself of capital goods for its own use. Major alterations, improvements and repairs that extend the useful life of an asset or increase its productivity are included. The value of work put in place during the year is included whether or not completed. Acquisitions are valued at total cost, including installation charges and fees or duties but excluding deductible VAT and financial costs. Sales are valued at the actual price received excluding VAT.

Basic source of data:
Annual surveys; adminstrative data.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
Data have been converted from national NACE-related classification system to ISIC (Revision 3).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
All enterprises.

Method of data collection:
Not reported.

Type of enumeration:
Enterprises with over 100 employees are completely enumerated, enterprises below that threshold are sampled.

Adjusted for non-response:

Number of employees includes all employees with contracts of more than one month, temporary employees provided by employment agencies and employees working for 18 days or more in two consecutive months.
Wages and salaries relates to total cash payments, including basic wages, bonuses and other premiums, allowances and employees' retirement and termination allowances.
Output represents the value of shipments of finished goods, adjusted for changes in stocks of finished goods and work in progress. The value of goods shipped in the same condition as received is excluded.
Value added is output less the value of raw materials, fuels and electricity consumed, the cost of contract and commission work done by others, value of excise taxes and depreciation.
Gross fixed capital formation is defined as the value of purchases of fixed assets, including own account construction, less the value of sales. Fixed assets covered are those with a productive life of more than one year and include repairs to existing assets, new assets whether not yet in use or previously used abroad and used assets. Valuation is at full cost incurred, including delivery price, cost of installation and fees and taxes. For own-produced assets, the cost of work put in progress covers labour costs, materials and supplies and includes an allocation for overheads. The amount realized is taken for sales of used assets.

Luxembourg

Supplier of information:
Service central de la statistique et des études économiques (STATEC), Luxembourg. Industrial statistics for the OECD countries are compiled by the OECD secretariat, which supplies them to UNIDO.

Basic source of data:
Annual sample survey, administrative sources and annual accounts of large establishments.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
Data, originally compiled according to NACE (Revision 1) have been regrouped to correspond to ISIC (Revision 3).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
All enterprises included in the business register.

Method of data collection:
Establishments with more than 50 employees are completely enumerated, while for the other establishments a sample survey is carried out.

Type of enumeration:
Not reported.

Adjusted for non-response:
Yes.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Output corresponds to the turnover adjusted for changes in the value of stocks of finished goods and work in progress, less the acquisition of goods and services shipped in the same condition as received, plus the immobilised production and other operating incomes (excluding subsidies). Excluded are value added tax (VAT) invoiced to the client by the producer, and VAT deductible on purchase of raw materials and intermediate products. The valuation is at market prices.
Value added relates to the gross value of operating activities, taking into account subsidies and indirect taxes. It is calculated as output less acquisition of goods and services, other taxes on products related to turnover but not deductible and taxes related to production. It excludes receipts and costs belonging to the business accounts under items "financial receipts/charges" and "exceptional receipts/charges".

Basic source of data:
Survey on annual production statistics; survey on investment; annual census; VAT register.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
Data presented by OECD in accordance with ISIC (Revision 3) were originally classified according to a classification system compatible with NACE (Revision 1).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
All enterprises.

Method of data collection:
Not reported.

Type of enumeration:
Enterprises with 20 and more employees are completely enumerated, while smaller enterprises are surveyed through sampling.

Adjusted for non-response:
Yes.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees is not converted to full time equivalent.
Wages and salaries includes gratuities, tips, severance payments, workplace and performance bonuses, ex-gratia payments, thirteenth month pay and seniority attendance.
Output is gross output. It excludes income from sales of capital assets produced on own accounts.
Value added refers to the national accounting concept.

Wages and salaries comprises all payments, whether in cash or in kind, made by the employer in connection with work done, to all persons included in the count of employees (also employed outworkers). It includes taxes, social insurance and pension contributions payable by the employee, but deducted by the employer. Bonuses, production awards, holiday allowances and wages paid during periods of sickness, military leave or other absences and commission earned by salesmen and representatives are also included. Fees paid to shareholders committees are included to some extend.
Output refers to gross output and is valued in producers' prices, excluding all subsidies and including all indirect taxes exept VAT. Included are the values of all goods produced on own account, repair work for others, mounting or installation of own products and merchandise, contract work, other work, own-account investment work, own-account repair work, rental receipts and gross profit of goods sold in the same condition as purchased.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees is calculated as the average number of employees throughout the year, whether full- or part-time; homeworkers are not included.
Wages and salaries comprises payments to all persons included in the count of employees (also employed outworkers), whether in cash or in kind or made by the employer in connection with work done. It includes taxes, social insurance and pension contributions payable by the employee, but deducted by the employer. Bonuses, production awards, holiday allowances and wages paid during periods of sickness, military leave or other absences, and commission earned by salesmen and representatives are also included. Fees paid to shareholders committee are included to some extend.
Output refers to gross output and is valued in producers' prices, excluding all subsidies, and including all indirect taxes except VAT. Included are the values of all goods produced on own account, repair work for others, mounting or installation of own products and merchandise, contract work, other work, own-account investment work, own-account repair work, rental receipts and gross profit of goods sold in the same condition as purchased.
Value added is the value of output, less cost of goods and services consumed; included are subsidies, less indirect taxes (except VAT) and investment levy.
Gross fixed capital formation is defined as the acquisition of fixed durable assets, new and used, with an expected productive life of more than one year, including own-account investment work less receipts from sales of fixed durable assets.

Republic of Korea

Supplier of information:
National Statistical Office, Taejon.
Industrial statistics for the OECD countries are compiled by the OECD secretariat, which supplies them to UNIDO.

Basic source of data:
Annual survey and the Census of Mining and Manufacturing.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
Data are collected under the national classification system which is compatible with ISIC (Revision 3).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
Establishments with 5 or more employees.

Method of data collection:
The inquiry is carried out for large establishments through questionnaires, and for small establishments through personal interviews. The surveyors visit all units.

Type of enumeration:
During census years all establishments with 5 persons or more engaged are completely enumerated.

Adjusted for non-response:
Not reported.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees is not converted to full-time equivalent.
Wages and salaries includes all money payment and payment in kind paid or supplied by the employer during the reference period to all employees counted on the payroll.
Output is gross output measured as the total value of all goods produced and services rendered to others by the establishment during the year.
Value added is gross output minus cost of production.
Gross fixed capital formation is the value of fixed assets purchased or constructed by the unit's own labour force for its own use during the reference year. The value of corresponding sales is not subtracted from it. Transactions in fixed assets include land, buildings, other construction and land improvements, transport equipment, machinery and other equipment.

Related national publications:
Report on the Industrial Census, Report on the Mining and Manufacturing Survey, both published by the National Statistical Office of the Republic of Korea, Seoul.

Spain

Supplier of information:
Instituto Nacional de Estadística (I.N.E.), Ministerio de Economía y Hacienda, Madrid. Industrial statistics for the OECD countries are compiled by the OECD secretariat, which supplies them to UNIDO.

Basic source of data:
Business industrial survey.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
The original system used was the National Classification of Economic Activities (CNAE 1993). This classification is equivalent, at the 4-digit level to NACE (Revision 1) and aligns with ISIC (Revision 3).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
All units employing one or more persons.

Method of data collection:
Establishments with 20 or more persons engaged are completely enumerated. Smaller establishments are sampled.

Type of enumeration:
Not reported.

Adjusted for non-response:
Not reported.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees is calculated as the mean of the number on four dates during the survey (in March, June, October, December) and includes both paid and unpaid staff and office staff as well as operatives.
Output follows the Spanish definition of gross output, this being the aggregate total of: (a) the output of goods and services for sale, including payments received for services and work performed by others and the value of electricity sold; (b) goods resold in the same condition as received; (c) payments for services rendered (rental of machines, technical assistance, etc.); (d) products and work in progress; and (e) capital formation for own account (fixed assets produced for own use and the value of major repairs and improvements to own capital assets using own resources).
Value added is calculated as the difference between the value of gross output and intermediate consumption in purchaser prices. Intermediate consumption includes the cost of: (a) raw materials and consumables; (b) energy consumed for power and heating, steam, electricity, gas, etc.; (c) purchases of industrial and non-industrial services; and (d) goods purchased for resale in the same condition as received.
Gross fixed capital formation is calculated by subtracting the value of sales of own fixed assets from the value of purchases of new and used fixed assets, major repairs and improvements to fixed assets performed by others, construction of assets for own account and major repairs and improvements to fixed assets carried out using own materials and labour.

Supplier of information:
National Statistics, London.
Industrial statistics for the OECD countries are compiled by the OECD secretariat, which supplies them to UNIDO.

Basic source of data:
Annual employment survey, annual business inquiry.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
Data presented in accordance with ISIC (Rev. 3) were originally classified in the Standard Industrial Classification of economic activities 1992 (SIC92), which was compatible with NACE (Revision 1).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
All establishments.

Method of data collection:
Questionnaires are distributed by mail.

Type of enumeration:
Not reported.

Adjusted for non-response:
Yes.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Wages and salaries includes all overtime payments, bonuses, commissions, holiday pay and redundancy payments less any amounts reimbursed from government sources. No deduction is made for income tax, insurance, contributory pensions, etc. Payments in kind, traveling expenses, lodging allowances, etc. are excluded.
Output relates to gross output and is calculated by adjusting the value of total sales, work done and services rendered, by the net changes during the year of work in progress and stocks of finished goods. Total sales represents deliveries on sale of goods produced by establishments and includes sales of goods made from materials given out by them to other organizations or to outworkers. The value of sales is the amount charged to customers. Where products attract excise duty, the value is inclusive of duty if goods are sold "duty-paid", and exclusive of duty if goods are sold in bond or exported. Sales of fixed assets are excluded.
Value added represents gross value added in factor values and is defined as the value of gross output less the cost of purchases of materials for use in production and packaging, fuels, goods for merchanting or factoring and the cost of industrial and non-industrial services received. The value of purchases is adjusted for changes in stocks of materials, stores and fuel.
Gross fixed capital formation is the value of purchases of fixed assets less the value of sales of such assets. Valuation is at full cost incurred, including the cost of installation and certain fees and taxes (namely legal fees, stamp duty, agents' commissions, etc.), and is inclusive of any amounts received or expected to be received in grants and/or allowances from government sources, statutory bodies or local authorities. The value of capital goods produced for own use are included. The value of any assets acquired in taking over an existing business are excluded. The figures include non-deductible VAT but exclude deductible VAT.

Supplier of information:
The Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, Washington, D.C.
Industrial statistics for the OECD countries are compiled by the OECD secretariat, which supplies them to UNIDO.

Basic source of data:
Annual survey of manufacturing.

Major deviations from ISIC (Revision 3):
Data presented in accordance with ISIC (Revision 3) were originally classified in the 1997 North American Industry Classification System (NAICS).

Reference period:
Calendar year.

Scope:
All manufacturing establishments with at least one employee.

Method of data collection:
Data are collected by mail and other communication media.

Type of enumeration:
Not reported.

Adjusted for non-response:
Not reported.

Concepts and definitions of variables:
Number of employees refers to all full- and part-time employees on the payrolls of operating establishments. An average of four quarterly observations (taken on 12 March, May, August and November) is taken for production workers (operatives) and combined with the figure for all other employees that is taken on 12 March.
Wages and salaries covers gross earnings, including wages, salaries and employers' contributions to pension funds and social security schemes. Regular and overtime cash payments, bonuses and cost of living allowances are included, as are vacation and sick leave pay, taxes and social insurance contributions payable by employees and deducted by employers, payments in kind and allowances. Also included are payments for health insurance, life insurance, pension plans and stock purchase plans. Wages and salaries are based upon the remuneration minus supplemental labour costs.
Output is measured as deliveries in terms of shipments, fob, adjusted for change in inventory for work-in-process and finished goods. Goods shipped include goods produced in the establishments, those shipped in the same condition as received, and receipts for industrial work done on materials owned by others or industrial services rendered to others. The value of goods shipped is in producer prices. In industries where the product is typically delivered, the value of shipments is in delivered prices.
Value added is based on the census concept and is calculated as output less the cost of materials, fuels and other supplies, goods shipped in the same condition as received, contract and commission work done by others, and electricity purchased. Input estimates are on a consumed basis. Valuation is the same as for output.
Gross fixed capital formation relates to the value of new plant and equipment purchased and constructed by the unit's own labour force for its own use. Used plant and equipment purchases are excluded. Fixed assets are defined as those with a productive life of more than one year. The valuation of new fixed capital formation is at full cost and includes the value of additions, alterations, improvements and repairs to existing assets (if capitalized). Purchased new assets are at delivered prices and include the cost of installation but exclude fees and taxes.
