INTRODUCTION

The United Nations Industrial Development Organization (UNIDO) promotes the use of industrial information in developing countries by giving guidance in improving local information facilities. As one of the means of promotion UNIDO compiles directories and guides to selected information sources on branches of industry of primary concern to developing countries. The present guide, dealing with the pharmaceutical industry, is the twentieth in the series of UNIDO Guides to Information Sources (UNIDO/LIB/SER.D). A list of the guides published to date appears inside the back cover of this guide; more are planned for the series.

The directories and guides are not intended to be exhaustive, nor are they intended to be research tools; rather, they present sources considered to be of practical value to users. The data have been compiled so as to facilitate rapid access to the bodies referred to and the acquisition of the publications listed.

Three categories of the pharmaceutical industry have been considered in this guide: prophylactics, therapeutics and contraceptives.

As the pharmaceutical industry is quite sophisticated and is usually linked to a well-developed chemical industry, developing countries often have difficulties in establishing pharmaceutical production. The formulation, tableting and packaging of pharmaceutical products, however, amount to about 40 per cent of their total cost, and the technology and know-how of these operations are simple, so that developing countries that have a domestic market for these products could produce them from imported bulk materials. Considerable savings in foreign currency could be achieved this way.

UNIDO assists developing countries in establishing, improving and expanding pharmaceutical industries based not only on imported bulk materials, but also on imported and locally available raw materials.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

INTRODUCTION

Pour faciliter la diffusion et l'utilisation de l'information industrielle dans les pays en développement, l'Organisation des Nations Unies pour le développement (ONUDI) aide ces pays à améliorer leurs moyens d'information, notamment en établissant des répertoires et des guides des principales sources d'information sur les secteurs industriels qui présentent pour eux un intérêt majeur. Le présent guide, qui concerne l'industrie pharmaceutique, est le vingtième de la série des Guides des sources d'information (UNIDO/LIB/SER.D). On trouvera à la page 3 de la couverture la liste des guides déjà parus. D'autres sont prévus.

Les ouvrages de cette série ne prétendent pas être exhaustifs; ce ne sont pas non plus des instruments de recherche, mais de simples guides des sources d'information considérées comme présentant un intérêt pratique pour les utilisateurs. Les données sont présentées de manière à permettre à ceux-ci de se mettre rapidement en rapport avec les sources d'information mentionnées et d'obtenir les publications auxquelles ils s'intéressent.

Le présent guide est consacré à trois branches de l'industrie pharmaceutique, à savoir : les produits prophylactiques, les produits thérapeutiques et les produits contraceptifs.

L'industrie pharmaceutique étant très évoluée et habituellement associée à une industrie chimique très développée, il est souvent difficile pour les pays en développement de se doter d'une telle industrie. La formulation, la mise en tablettes et le conditionnement qui sont des opérations simples représentent cependant 40 % environ du coût total des produits pharmaceutiques. En les fabriquant à partir de matières premières importées en vrac, les pays en développement, qui sont assurés d'un marché intérieur pour ces produits, réaliseraient d'importantes économies de devises.

L'ONUDI aide ces pays à créer des industries pharmaceutiques ou à développer celles qui existent déjà, qu'elles utilisent des produits importés en vrac ou bien des matières premières importées ou disponibles localement.

ВВЕДЕНИЕ

Организация Объединенных Наций по промышленному развитию (ЮНИДО) содействует использованию промышленной информации в развивающихся странах посредством обеспечения руководства в деле совершенствования местных средств информации. Одним из средств такого содействия является составление в ЮНИДО справочников и руководств по отдельным источникам информации, касающимся тех отраслей промышленности, которые имеют первостепенное значение для развивающихся стран. Настоящее руководство по вопросам фармацевтической промышленности является двадцатым в серии ЮНИДО Guides to Information Sources (UNIDO/LIB/SER.D.). Перечень опубликованных до настоящего времени руководств приводится на внутренней стороне задней обложки настоящего выпуска; в этой серии планируется также выпуск еще целого ряда руководств.

При составлении таких справочников и руководств не ставится цель сделать их исчерпывающими; они также не служат в качестве средства исследования; в них, скорее, представлены источники, которые предположительно имеют практическую ценность для тех, кто ими пользуется. Данные в этих справочниках подобраны таким образом, чтобы облегчить как доступ к получению информации в тех организациях, на которые имеется ссылка, так и приобретение перечисленных изданий.

В данном руководстве рассматриваются три подразделения фармацевтической промышленности: профилактическая, терапевтическая и противозачаточная.

Поскольку фармацевтическая промышленность представляет собой довольно сложное дело и обычно связана с хорошо налаженным химическим производством, перед развивающимися странами при создании фармацевтического производства часто возникают трудности. Однако разработка новых видов фармацевтической продукции, изготовление таблеток и затраты на тару и упаковку фармацевтических изделий составляют примерно 40% всех расходов на фармацевтическое производство, а вследствие того, что технология и технические знания по этим видам операций являются простыми, развивающиеся страны, обладающие внутренним рынком для сбыта этой продукции, могут изготавливать их из импортных нерасфасованных материалов. Это позволит добиться значительной экономии иностранной валюты.

ЮНИДО помогает развивающимся странам в создании, усовершенствовании и расширении фармацевтической промышленности, основанной не только на импортных нерасфасованных материалах, но также и на сырьевых материалах, которые импортируются или имеются на месте.

Используемые обозначения и распределение материалов в настоящем руководстве не означают, что Секретариат Организации Объединенных Наций выражает какое-либо мнение относительно юридического статуса той или иной страны, или ее органов власти, или относительно начертания ее границ.

Названия организаций и публикаций даны на языке оригинала в тех случаях, когда они имелись в наличии; названия, представленные на языках, не являющихся официальными языками Организации Объединенных Наций, включены в перечень в переводе на английский язык.

INTRODUCCION

La Organización de las Naciones Unidas para el Desarrollo Industrial (ONUDI) promueve la utilización de información industrial en los países en desarrollo, proporcionando orientación para el mejoramiento de los servicios locales de información. Uno de los medios de promoción que emplea la ONUDI consiste en compilar repertorios y guías de fuentes seleccionadas de información sobre ramas de la industria de especial interés para los países en desarrollo. La presente guía, que trata de la industria farmacéutica, es la vigésima de la serie Guías de Fuentes de Información (UNIDO/LIB/SER.D). La lista de las publicaciones aparecidas hasta la fecha figura en la contracubierta posterior de la presente guía; se prevé la publicación de otras en esta misma serie.

Las guías y los repertorios no pretenden ser exhaustivos ni están destinados a servir de instrumentos de investigación, sino que presentan más bien fuentes que se consideran de valor práctico para los usuarios. Los datos se han recopilado de modo tal que faciliten el rápido acceso a las entidades mencionadas y la adquisición de las publicaciones que se indican.

En la presente guía se han tenido en cuenta tres categorías de productos de la industria farmacéutica: los profilácticos, los terapéuticos y los anticonceptivos.

Como la industria farmacéutica es muy compleja y por lo general está vinculada a una industria química bien desarrollada, los países en desarrollo suelen tropezar con dificultades en el establecimiento de una manufactura de productos farmacéuticos. Sin embargo, la preparación de productos farmacéuticos, su elaboración en forma de tabletas y su envasado representan aproximadamente el 40% de su costo total y la tecnología y las técnicas de estas operaciones son sencillas, por lo cual, los países en desarrollo que cuentan con un mercado interno para estos productos podrían elaborarlos a partir de ingredientes a granel importados. De esta forma podría conseguirse un ahorro considerable de divisas.

La ONUDI presta asistencia a los países en desarrollo en el establecimiento, el mejoramiento y la ampliación de industrias farmacéuticas basadas no sólo en la utilización de ingredientes a granel importados, sino también en la de materias primas importadas o disponibles en el país.
