The objective of the World Information Directory of Industrial Technology and Investment Support Services is to facilitate the working relationship between various national and regional information providers (institutions, agencies and organizations) and to improve the flow of information among each country and among the countries in the world. It has been prepared under the UNIDO/INTIB (Information and Networking for Technology, Investment and Business) programme.

The World Information Directory contains two chapters. The first chapter is concerned with investment facilitators, the second with information sources. Both chapters are organized to provide profiles, sorted alphabetically, first by country and then by organization name. To ease the search for an organization in a specific country, reference lists have been prepared.

The investment facilitators chapter contains national investment agencies organizations around the world, known to UNIDO for the services they provide to their nationals in the promotion and development of investment in their country. It includes all UNIDO Investment Promotion Services.

The information sources chapter contains suppliers of industrial and technological information from around the world whose services are used by the International Referral System (IRS) of INTIB. IRS, in addition to drawing from UNIDO's own stock of industrial information, uses these external services to provide entrepreneurs in developing countries with tailor-made answers to their industrial needs. This may be of technologies available, manufactured products or training opportunities for one or more sectors of industry, or even a combination of any of these requirements.

Regional organizations also cooperate with INTIB. For example, the African Regional Centre for Technology (ARCT), Dakar, Senegal, listed in the Directory under the information sources chapter, acts as the INTIB regional focal point for Africa. ARCT has prepared a regional directory covering ten African countries: Cameroon, Egypt, Ghana, Kenya, Nigeria, Senegal, Sudan, United Republic of Tanzania, Zambia, Zimbabwe. ARCT, on behalf of INTIB, acts as a representative for IRS services in Africa.

Through the World Information Directory of Industrial Technology and Investment Support Services, the staff of INTIB hopes to provide a useful tool in locating sources of investment and information in all industrial sectors and to disseminate this knowledge in a most impartial manner.

Material in this publication may be freely quoted or reprinted
Mention of firm names and commercial products does not imply the endorsement of UNIDO

In a spirit of innovation and with a view to decentralizing its operations, the Information and Networking for Technology, Investment and Business (INTIB) programme of UNIDO has now added a new tool to its information systems, the International Referral System (IRS).

The International Referral System is a network of specialized information sources established for replying rapidly to industrial enquiries from entrepreneurs in developing countries, transmitted through INTIB. The network is computerized to facilitate rapid searches by field of industry, type of activities, languages, and form of replies to industrial enquiries.

The network has been built up over the last three years in response to the growing need for state-of-the art, tailor-made answers to technical enquiries in a rapidly changing and competitive environment. In addition to its own resources, INTIB now uses the services of the International Referral System to search for the most judicious choice of technological, manufacturing and equipment alternatives for its clients, acting as an honest broker of industrial and technological information.

The World Information Directory of Industrial Technology and Investment Support Services is the printed counterpart of this initiative. It contains data from specialized information sources that have joined the International Referral System, representing 169 organizations around the world in 43 countries.

The first issue of the World Directory was produced in December 1995 on the occasion of the sixth session of UNIDO's General Conference and it was well received. As a result of the exercise and following the suggestions generated, it was decided to add to the directory a chapter on investment facilitators. This chapter covers profiles from 75 organizations around the world in 57 countries and is being launched on the occasion of UNIDO's 30th anniversary. As with the previous edition, any additional comments, suggestions and potential contributions will be highly appreciated.

In a spirit of international team work, INTIB now relies on additional inputs from its users in order to serve as the first port of call for technology holders, investments facilitators and the global industrial community.

UNIDO

UNIDO is the specialized agency of the United Nations dedicated to bringing a better life through industrial development to the people who live in developing countries and countries in transition to market economies. The aim of UNIDO's services is to help these countries overcome their social and economic difficulties and achieve a greater stake in the global market.

Through its industrial expertise, the Organization helps lay the foundations for long-term, sustainable development. As a catalyst for change, it provides the kind of industrial services essential for clients to generate their own economic wealth and develop national capabilities.

With a broad membership of 169 nations, UNIDO is a unique forum for global debate on industrial development. As an honest broker, it builds on the complementary interests of its clients to develop international industrial partnerships.

More information is available from the Internet address: <http://www.unido.org>.

INTIB

As early as December 1975, the General Assembly of the United Nations had affirmed the "need to enable developing countries to have access to specific information on advanced and other technologies requested by them, as well as on the new uses of existing technologies, new developments, possibilities of adapting them to local needs and to select technologies which meet their requirements". INTIB (formerly Industrial and Technological Information Bank) was set up in 1977 as a pilot project through a decision of the Industrial Development Board to meet these needs. Since then INTIB has facilitated direct or indirect access to information through its own databases and through a variety of services and products.

To reflect recent changes in its activities and services and to respond to rapid advances in information technology and the internet, INTIB was redefined in 1996 as the "Information and Networking for Technology, Investment and Business" programme. Its technical assistance programme now concentrates on providing support for the development of "Integrated National Information Networks" in developing countries. Its objective is to organize a working relationship among various national information institutions, agencies and organizations and to facilitate the flow of information to, from and within a country.

IRS

One of the latest tools added to INTIB's services is the International Referral System (IRS). IRS is an information professional referral service that serves a wide range of information needs: from document delivery to online research; from market surveys to industrial/technical expertise; and business opportunities.

The service operates by matching our clients, mainly entrepreneurs from developing countries, who have industry related questions with members of the service, professionals or institutions throughout the world, who can provide state-of-the-art, tailor-made answers to their questions. In order to use this service, our clients are requested to complete a questionnaire, which assists in the formulation of the query so that the best matches will be found among the members of the service. All the members listed from developed and developing countries, have substantial industrial development experience and the best possible qualifications.

IRS thus offers our clients a means to identify the best world-wide industrial information provider for a specific question, at conditions affordable by developing country entrepreneurs. IRS offers our members a valuable new source of business with developing countries. Its flexible and convenient operation allows those members to retain their independence while marketing their services to clients around the world.

The members participating in the IRS are divided into two groups: Specialized Information Sources (SIS) and Investment Facilitators (IF). SIS consist of information professionals whose activities focus on providing information products to industrialists in order to solve their daily production problems or to develop new production facilities. IFs are mainly institutions promoting services related to the financing (loans, etc.) or cooperation (joint-venture, licensing, etc.) aspects of industrial activities.

Prospective members either as, Specialized Information Sources (SIS) or Investment Facilitators (IF), should complete the appropriate questionnaire and return it to UNIDO Headquarters for further processing.

Copy of questionnaires are available in the annexes.
